The New Castle Mills.

In reference to a dispatch that the Shenango Mill at New Castle, had started up at the old wages, we are informed by Mr. Reis, one of the proprietors, that the firm have avowed their intention not to employ "Union" Boilers at any rate—that they (Reis, Brown & Berger,) have but three furnaces on, with the avowed intention of showing the "Union" that they could get men independent of that organization. The rumor that more furnaces than the three were on is untrue. The peculiar complication with the Shenango Mill was that the boilers assumed to dictate how, and to whom the furnaces should be given, and the contest assuming that phase, the price to be paid ceased to be a matter of discussion.

The Magazines for May.

We have received from John W. Pittock, opposite the postoffice, the earliest published of our usual monthly literature. The number of Harper's Magazine is one of the most varied and interesting we have had for a long time. It contains a more than average number of illustrated papers, and several remarkably able and attractive miscellaneous articles. The last chapters of the serial story of "The Virginians in Texas" are also given. Godey's Lady's Book, Frank Leslie's Lady's Magazine and Demorest's Monthly, all abound in those particular characteristics that have made them so popular—we may say indispensable—among the ladies; but, if a selection had to be made among the three, we should recommend the second as undoubtedly the best.

We have likewise received copies of all the above entertaining periodicals from Messrs. Hogle & Chambers, the new and enterprising firm lately established next door to the COMMERCIAL office; and, in addition, they sent us a capital illustrated magazine, called "Pleasure Hours," "Arthur's Home Magazine," a light moral and religious monthly for children, and "The Phrenological Journal," one of the most liberally useful and scientific works of its kind that ever was published in a form suited for the people to understand and profit by.

Singular Diplomatic Difficulty.

[Correspondence of the Pall Mall Gazette.]

ROME, March 23.

We are now in the midst of the embroilment with Prussia, arising from the refusal to admit Baron d'Arnim to the Vatican in a one-horse tilbury, and attended only by one groom. Several versions of the affair are afloat, and have appeared in different journals, but the facts are simply these: The etiquette of the Vatican, as I apprised you at the time, excludes one-horse vehicles from the courts of the palace, but an exception was made in the case of two persons—the Pope's physician, and M. Kolb, the Minister of Wurtemburg. M. Kolb is one of the principal bankers of Rome, and in this character has rendered important financial services to the Holy See, besides having money dealings with the Antonellis. He thus became entitled to a papal decoration, which Cardinal Antonelli was unwilling to bestow upon him; and M. Kolb waived his claim on consideration of being permitted to enter the Vatican in a one-horse carriage. Baron d'Arnim, hearing that the Minister of Wurtemberg possessed this privilege, declared that the Minister Plenipotentiary of the King of Prussia must not be placed in an inferior position to the representative of a petty German King, and that he would claim the same right. But it was in vain he tried to force a passage by whipping on his horse; the Swiss sentry lowered his halberd, causing the animal to rear up, and the Baron was obliged to retire. From the Palazzo Caffarelli he wrote an account of the affair to the Secretary of State, and demanded in peremptory terms that the sentry should be punished, and that the carriage of the Prussian legation should in the future be admitted with his horse. Next day he received a visit from Signor Barlazzi, a functionary in the Secretary's office, who brought him the printed regulations, showing that the usage he complained of was of ancient date, and, therefore, that the sentry had merely done his duty in excluding him, while it was impossible to relax a standing rule in his favor. This answer infuriated the Baron, and he immediately appealed to Count Bismarck, who took up the quarrel, and instructed him to tell Cardinal Antonelli that his demands must be complied with, or the Prussian legation would leave Rome. The Cardinal, however, adhered to his first answer, and seemed to be indifferent whether the Prussian legation departed or stayed. But at this crisis Count De Sartiges offered himself as a peacemaker, and brought over his Eminence by representing how he would be embarrassed by a new rupture, when he was already at variance with Russia and the United States. So Baron d'Arnim has gained his point, but the Court of Rome knows how to revenge itself in such cases, and the letter in which the cardinal makes the required concession informs him that he is permitted to enter the Vatican in a carriage "drawn by one quadruped, whatever it may be." This wide license has excited some merriment in the Eternal City.

RUSSIAN AMERICA.

In the House of Lords on the 2d of April the Earl of Clarendon said: In the absence of the noble Earl at the head of the government I take liberty of asking any of the noble lords opposite whether they may be able to give the House any information on a subject of great public interest. I allude to the cession of a large portion of the Russian territory to the United States, of which we received intimation yesterday by telegraph. A similar question was asked yesterday in another place, and my noble friend at the head of the Foreign Office said that he had telegraphed to St. Petersburg for information and had not yet received an answer.

The Duke of Buckingham—I am much obliged to the noble Earl for having put the question, because it affords me an opportunity, in the absence of my noble friend at the head of the Government, of giving all the information which we at present possess with reference to the cession of Russian America. Within the last two hours a communication has been received from St. Petersburg confirming the impression that negotiations have been entered upon, or are on foot, for the purpose of treating with the United States for the cession of that territory; but how far these negotiations have progressed, whether they have arrived at any definite point, or whether any answer or communication has been received from the United States, the authorities at St. Petersburg were not aware when the information thence was sent us. The question of the cession of that portion of America to the United States is one likely to cause great feeling and possibly considerable excitement; but I trust it will not be allowed to have undue weight in the minds of Englishmen, for I cannot myself think that the cession or purchase, if it be so, by the United States is likely to have such overwhelming influence upon the progress of the colonies sprung from English blood, which have been established on that side of the world as at first sight might be imagined.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The Liberal Mexican Secretary of Foreign Affairs, in a letter to our government in reference to the reported capture and shooting by the Liberals, of the young Marquis De Montholon, son of the late Minister of France at Washington, disavows any belief in the truth of the capture or shooting of the young man.

According to the Herald correspondent Mr. Charles O'Connor expresses himself as thoroughly satisfied that an injunction will be issued to restrain the execution of the reconstruction measures, as against the parties embraced by the Georgia bill, and declares that the Court cannot evade the question without disgrace. On the other hand, Mr. Caleb Cushing advances the opinion that the injunction cannot issue against the Secretary of War any more than it can against the President, himself; because the official acts of that Secretary are the executive acts of the President and the Secretary is the executive agent of the President.

All the Southern Railroads, damaged by the late floods, have been repaired, and are in running order from Norfolk to Memphis.

Hereafter Mr. Seward will decline to give letters of introduction to persons going abroad.

General Rousseau has received his commission and been ordered to the Pacific.

The Secretary of the Treasury has received a telegram from the First National Bank of Selma, Alabama, that a Government Depository has been robbed of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars.

It is said Mr. Newton will remain as Commissioner of Agriculture.

Extensive preparations are being made throughout Virginia for an appropriate celebration of the forty-sixth anniversary of the Fraternity of Odd Fellows in the United States.

A third attempt was made on Saturday noon last to effect the destruction of the rebel ram Merrimac, lying sunk in the Elizabeth river, near Crany Island. Several torpedoes, containing over a thousand pounds of powder, were placed beneath the wreck by the divers, and when a match was applied a terrific explosion took place, throwing the water and fragments of the vessel to a great height in the air. The destruction was not material and seven more attempts will have to be made before the ram finally succumbs and can be removed from the position where she now lies.

The Meadville Savings Bank goes into operation to-day. Cyrus Ketchum is President, and S. P. Officer Cashier. The bank will allow five per cent. on all deposits, and depositors can withdraw at their pleasure.

THE GEORGIA INJUNCTION CASE.

Minister Motley to be Retained.

THE CASE OF JOHN H. SURRATT.

Evidence Taken by Judiciary Committee.

Important Testimony of Dr. McMillan.

Surratt Confesses His Complicity in the Assassination Plot.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, April 17, 1867.

The Georgia Injunction Case.

The counsel for the Georgia injunction case are dissatisfied with the decision, virtually postponing it till December next, and have decided to ask the Supreme Court to waive what is known as the sixty day rule regarding subpœnas, so that arguments may be heard, and a decision given at this term of the Court. It is doubtful whether the Court grants the request.

Austrian Mission.

It is very evident that nothing will be done by the Senate relative to filling the Austrian mission. A resolution was prepared and reported to-day by the Committee on Federal Relations, which will probably pass, declaring that the position is already filled, and that Mr. Motley has not legally and fully resigned. This was discussed for some time but not voted on. The President looks upon the case as an actual vacancy, and if the Senate adjourns without confirming Mr. Raymond, a new appointment will doubtless be made.

Executive Session.

The executive session of the Senate was mostly occupied to-day in considering Indian treaties. The debate was exceedingly dull, and hardly a quorum was present during most of the discussion. The slow progress demonstrated that the session of the Senate would certainly be extended to Saturday.

Land Sales.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has received returns from the local office at Jackson, Mississippi, showing that during the month of March eighty-seven farms, comprising in the aggregate 5,215 acres, were added to the productive force of that State.

Patents Issued.

For the week ending on Tuesday, 23d instant, two hundred and seventeen patents will be issued from the Patent Office. During the week ending on Saturday last, about five hundred and eighty applications and sixty-five caveats were filed.

Evidence in the Surratt Case.

The evidence taken by the House Judiciary Committee relative to the discovery and pursuit of John H. Surratt is just made public as officially reported before that Committee, and contains the testimony, embracing a partial confession from Surratt as to his complicity in the assassination plot, and of his much disputed whereabouts on the day the assassination took place. It appears from the evidence of L. J. McMillan, surgeon of the steamer Peruvian, plying between Montreal and Liverpool, that Surratt came on board in September, 1865, booked for Liverpool, and that becoming intimate he confessed to McMillan who he was.

The supplemental evidence, together with the official correspondence of the State Department with our Foreign Ministers and Consuls, show that the confession of identity to McMillan was the original and sole cause which eventually led to Surratt's arrest. This corroboration leaves no room to doubt the evidence. Dr. McMillan testifies that Surratt come on board the Peruvian, at Montreal, on September 11th, 1865, and was introduced to him under the name of McCarthy; that becoming well acquainted in a few days, Surratt confessed to him that he had been from the beginning in the Confederate States' service carrying dispatches between Washington and Richmond, and also as far as Montreal; that he and Booth had planned at first the abduction of President Lincoln; that, however, they thought they could not succeed in that way, and they thought it was necessary to change their plan. After this, before the assassination, Surratt was in Montreal, when he received a letter from Booth ordering him immediately to Washington; that it was necessary to act and act promptly, and he was to leave Montreal immediately for Washington. He did not tell me he came to Washington, but he told me he came as far as Elmira, in the State of New York, and from that place telegraphed to New York to find out whether Booth had already left for Washington, and he was answered that he had. He did not tell me whether he had gone further than Elmira. The next place he spoke to me of was St. Albans, Vermont, where he said he arrived early one morning at breakfast time, and went to a hotel there for breakfast. While he was sitting there he heard several men talking about an assassination, and he inquired "What was up?" They asked him if he did not know that President Lincoln had been assassinated. He said, "I did not believe it, because the story was too good to be true." On that a gentleman pulled out a paper and handed it to him. He opened it and saw his own name as one of the assassins. He said this unnerved him so much that the paper fell out of his hands, and he immediately left the room and walked out, and as he was going out through the house, he heard another party say that Surratt must have been or was at the time in St. Albans, because such a person (mentioning the person's name) had found a pocket-handkerchief on the street with Surratt's name on it. He told me that he actually looked in his pocket and found he had lost his pocket-handkerchief. From that place he then went to Canada, and was concealed there from April to September. When he was aboard the ship he called me aside and again commenced to talk about the assassination, and one thing or the other. It was in the evening, and we were alone together, and he took out his revolver, which he kept in his pocket all the time, and pointed it to the heavens, and said he, "I hope and wish to live just a few years more; two years will do me, and then I shall go back to the United States, and I shall serve Andrew Johnson as Abraham Lincoln has been served."

I asked him why, and he answered "because he has been the cause of my mother being hung."

Dr. McMillen further testified that he arrived in Liverpool September 27, 1865, and went before the American Consul, Mr. Wild, and made affidavit to the above facts. An official letter from Consul Wild shows that the affidavit caused the commencement of the pursuit of Surratt which resulted in his capture in little more than a year from that time.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE EXTENDED.

The leave of absence given Governor Cummings, of Colorado, on the 1st of December, has been extended to the 27th April, because of the necessity of his attendance in Washington relative to Indian affairs of Colorado.

TENURE OF OFFICE.

The President to-day replied to a resolution of the Senate calling for copies of any official opinions which have been given by the Attorney General, the Solicitor of the Treasury, or any other officer of the Government, on the interpretation of the act of Congress regulating the tenure of office, especially in regard to appointments by the President during the recess of Congress. This resolution having been referred to the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of State, Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy, Attorney General, and Postmaster General, they severally report that they have given no opinion upon the subject. The Secretary of the Treasury, however, in his reply, submits a transcript of a letter addressed by him to the Solicitor of that Department, together with his reply. These contain all the information he has on the subject. Secretary McCulloch writes to the Solicitor, March 2d: In view of the possibility that the commission of the chief offices of customs at several ports may within a few days expire by constitutional limitation before successors have been appointed, I have the honor to request your opinion as to what legal provisions exist for the administration of the duties of the offices of Collectors, Naval officers and Surveyors during the time one or more are vacant, after the expiration of the present incumbents, and in view of the eminence of the emergency I would request the favor of an early reply.

No distinct or clear provision has been made by Congress on the subject. At the first view it would seem to be a casus omissus, and that the office would remain vacant or in abeyance until a new appointment could be made. This would, however, be a public calamity. Such offices must, as a matter of necessity, be constantly filled, as the duties are to be performed day by day, and are different from most other offices in this respect. In view of this fact it is not presumed that Congress intended to omit a provision for the exigency, but on the other hand considered such a provision actually was made. In many cases the law provides in terms that an officer once appointed shall hold his office until his successor be qualified; but no express provision of that kind is made here. Again, at common law, certain officers are held from necessity to hold over in this manner, but this has not, I believe, been the usage of our government in relation to the officers in question. The act of March 3d, 1817, empowered Collectors, with the approbation of the Secretary, to appoint deputies, and declared that at such deputies should be officers of customs. By third section, 307, a deputy is in law but the shadow of his principal, as a general rule, and his tenure of office ceases with that of the Collector. The act alluded to, however, seems to change the general rule to a certain extent, and makes the deputy's office a distinct one, in some respects at least. It may be Congress intended he should act in the exigency in question. I am by no means clear on the point, yet the absence of any other provision, and in view of public necessity, I recommend that you authorize the special deputy collector to act; but the same reasoning does not strictly apply to deputies of Naval Officer and Surveyor, whose respective commissions have expired, but convenience requires the same rule, and in the absence of other provisions I think you may be warranted in following it. I have the honor to be, etc.,

[Signed] EDWARD JOURDAN,
Solicitor of the Treasury Department.

Hon. H. McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
SOLICITOR'S OFFICE, March 23, 1868.

SIR: I have received through Mr. Creery your verbal request for my opinion on certain questions relating to the office of Collector of Customs at Philadelphia. It appears that Mr. Johnson received from the President a temporary appointment during the recess prior to the last session of the Senate, a nomination for a permanent appointment during the session, which nomination was rejected, so Mr. Johnson's term expired at the end of the session, whereupon, another nomination having been made, the Secretary of the Treasury, in order to avoid a total suspension of the functions of Collector, directed E. R. Myer, special deputy of the late Collector, to perform the duties of the office for the time being. The questions propounded to me are whether under the circumstances, the Secretary can now remove Mr. Meyer and appoint a successor, or devolve the duties of the office upon another; whether he could do so during the recess of the Senate, and finally, who, in case of the death or resignation of Myers, could perform the duties, and by whose authority. I have to say I think you have power to remove Mr. Myer for good cause affecting the public interest, either now or during the recess of the Senate, and in the event of such removal, it is competent for you to designate some one of the other deputies of the Collector to perform the duties of the office. I think the same action would be proper in case of the death or resignation of Myer. Perhaps, in making such designation it would be desirable to select the oldest deputy, provided there were no special reasons to the contrary. These powers are not conferred on you by any express provisions of the law, but they seem to me to result from the imperative necessity of avoiding the total suspension of the functions imposed upon you to superintend the collection of revenue. It is perhaps proper for me to add that I have read this letter to the Attorney General, and he concurs in the views it expresses. I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

EDWARD JOURDAN,
Solicitor of the Treasury.

Hon. H. MCCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

ADDRESS OF GOV. MORTON TO THE FREEDMEN.

The colored people of Georgetown and Freedmen's Village, who celebrated the anniversary of emancipation in the District of Columbia to-day, were addressed by Mayor Welch and others. Governor Morton, of Indiana, in the course of his speech, said the late war was begun for the perpetuation of slavery, but Providence ordained it should result in the destruction of slavery and the enfranchisement of the whole colored race. The colored people were now called upon for their votes, and opposing parties would all claim their suffrages, and it would be a matter of importance to the entire country how these votes were cast. They must inquire who were their friends in the past, who gave them liberty first, and right of suffrage afterwards. When they answered these questions, they could easily determine how to vote. The orator pressed upon his auditors the importance of education and industry to fit them to discharge all the duties of citizens. The great example of Congress in making universal suffrage rules in all Southern States, must now be followed in the Northern States. He spoke half an hour, and was frequently interrupted by applause. In conclusion he said: The event they were celebrating must ever be a great one in their lives, and they must from it to learn love liberty as a principle, and an inheritance due to all without distinction of race or color

PARIS EXPOSITION.

The American Department on the Opening Day.

Special Correspondence of the London Telegraph.

America was putting her best foot foremost all day Sunday; but although the decoration of the United States courts is completed, and the counters are ready, and the glass cabinets are prepared, the United States packing cases are not yet emptied of a tithe of their contents. I saw, however, a great many Transatlantic articles exhibited which will demand, at a future period, extended notice. Amongst others are sumptuously carved chimney pieces of Vermont, Tennessee, and California marble; the last as rich in color as onyx, and beautifully veined with gold in its natural state. Then there was an imposing array of grand pianos, and a very remarkable collection of clocks, statuettes, and lamps, seemingly made of bronze, but in reality of cast iron, artfully colored, and which can be sold twenty-five per cent. cheaper than the real bronze, while they are quite as handsome and fully as durable. There is also a really astonishing machine—I need scarcely say that it is of New England manufactnre—for the simultaneous composing of type and the formation of a matrix for stereotyping, the types being stamped into a thickness of a soft blotting-paper, from which the cast can subsequently be taken. The compositor sits before a species of key-board, strongly resembling that of a piano forte. His foot works the pedal; in fact, you might think that, while he is really "setting up" the Constitution of the United States, he was some boarding-school miss practising her exercises on an instrument whose keys had been carefully muffled, out of consideration for the nervous lodger next door. In its remaining portions, the United States department—through no fault, be it observed, of Mr. Beckwith, the Chief Commissioner, but through the non-arrival of merchandise—is in a regretable state of backwardness. At all events, however, America had something to show, which was not the case on Sunday afternoon with Italy, with Portugal, and with Brazil. Those countries had unpacked nothing, and seemed hopelessly behindhand.

ERIE AND PITTSBURGH RAILROAD.—The Erie Dispatch speaking of the law authoring the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad Company to extend their road to this city, by the Connoquenessing and Pine Creeks, says: "It appears that this company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have made an arrangement by which they will connect their roads in Butler county; probably in the valley of the Connoquenessing. The proposed route would shorten the distance about eighthen miles besides developing a vast amount of mineral resources of the section through which it would pass, and which are now comparatively worthless on account of there being no available outlet to a market.

RUSSIA originally offered her northwestern possessions to us for $7,000,000 subject to the claims of the various trading companies; but Mr. Seward declined to take a mere quit-claim title, and his tenacity on this point seemed likely, it is stated, at one time to result in preventing the purchase. Finally he proposed to make the price $7,200,000 for a warrantee title, adding, you will notice $200,000 to cover the traders' franchises. This proposition was accepted, and hence the second clause of the sixth article of the treaty—"The cession of territory and domain herein made is hereby declared to be free and unincumbered by any reservations."

WAYNESBURG, April 17, 1867.

Mrs. Cage, the suicide's wife, was still living this morning, and hopes were entertained of her recovery. Her skull and cheek bone are both broken. From some words and actions of Cage's, it is thought to have been his intention to murder his wife and also the family of his son-in-law, with whom he lived, but was prevented by their wakefulness. After striking his wife, he fled from the house and were not found till dead. A large knife and razor was found with him. The cause is not positively known, but is thought to have been jealousy. J. A white Committee on Organization was chosen. Fears were expressed that some Democrats would come here to spoil the convention. Hunnicutt and T. M. Conway, of New York, made inflammatory speeches, the new idea being that negroes should demand higher pay, at least forty dollars per month. The convention adjourned till to-morrow. There will be a mass meeting in Capitol Square to-morrow night. The citizens don't seem to take much notice of the presence of the convention and there is no bad feeling.

SUFFERING AT VERA CRUZ.

PEOPLE LIVING ON SALT PROVISION.

Maximilian Solicits a Suspension of Hostilities.

All Foreign Imperialists to Be Shot.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The steamer Eagle, from Havana on the 13th, has arrived, with Vera Cruz dates to the 5th. The place was still closely beseiged, and the garrison attacked every night. Vomito had appeared, and the dead were buried in the Castle of San Juan D'Ulloa, but a Norther having set in on the 4th and 5th, insts., they had to be buried in the city. The supply of water was cut off, and there was no beef, vegetables, fruit or fuel. The people were living on salt provisions obtained from vessels. General Tobado had given up the task of defending the city, and Landers now commands. The Imperial prefect continues to expatriate all adherents of Juarez.

The capture of Puebla by Porfioro Diaz is confirmed. The capture was celebrated by the besiegers of Vera Cruz and it is said by United States men-of-war.

Escobedo's forces are reported to number thirty thousand, and the imperial forces thirteen thousand. It is reported that Maximilian solicited the suspension of hostilities preparatoy to the adjustment of terms of capitulation. Escobedo referred to Juarez at San Luis Potosi, though Juarez's previous orders were to accept no capitulotion save at discretion, and then to conduct Maximilian to San Luis as a prisoner of war.

A steamer had arrived at Tampico from New York with guns and ammunition, and being armed, to aid in the seige of Vera Cruz. Escobedo issued a circular reiterating that all foreigners captured fighting against the Republic will be executed. Maximilian ordered that no Republican be shot without a previous order from his headquarters.

The reported capture of the Spanish steamer Montezuma by the R. R. Cuyler proves a canard, the Montezuma having arrived at Santiago. The Cuyler was at Santa Marta at last accounts flying the Columbian flag.

BY FOREIGN MAILS.

The Spanish Imbroglio---Reduction of British Debt---Luxemburg---New Prussian Loan---Strike in Paris---Singular Procession in London---New Way of Disposing of Prisoners of War.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The steamer Scotia, from Liverpool on the 6th and Queenstown on the 7th, arrived to-night.

The Times of the 6th, in its city article, says: Spanish Securities were influenced by the strong belief expressed by those who are unable to estimate the present composition of the Spanish Government that a resort to reprisals would be [illegible] ultimately unavoidable. The tone of the market is such as would under ordinary circumstances indicate a general conviction that the breaking out of war is but a question of a few weeks; but the peculiar state of the public mind ever since the panic in May last, will, in some degree, furnish less serious explanation.

The Daily News says in its city article: Owing to the prospect of a rupture of relations with Spain, a few transactions occurred at Lloyd's in war risks on English ships to Havana. Eleven shillings per cwt. was paid yesterday against the risk of capture. A Cadiz telegram states that the Spanish Government has released the Captain of the Tornado, and that John McPherson has been transferred to the interior of the country, as a Chilean prisoner of war. McPherson is included in Lord Stanley's peremptory order.

The British Government propose to extinguish £24,000,000 of the National debt before 1885, by means of terminable annuities.

A Berlin telegram of the 4th of April says intelligence has been received here from the Hague, which announces the Dutch Government had officially informed the Prussian Cabinet that the sale of Luxemburg had not yet been effected, and will not be carried out without the consent of Prussia.

The London Times says it is a disgrace to French statesmen that the Luxemburg scheme should have ever been entertained. France will show her deference for European opinion by abandoning this ill-omened negotiation, which would not only unite all Germany against her, but break off the intimate friendship which prevails between her and other European powers.

A Paris telegram of the 5th says the French Government has still under consideration the question of the cession of Luxemburg to France. It considers the engagements entered into by the King of Holland too binding for him to withdraw without the consent of France.

Lord Stanley, in giving some explanations in the Commons, said the consent of the King of Holland was from the first made conditional upon that of the people of Luxemburg, and also upon the consent of Prussia. He strongly doubted whether the consent of Prussia would be given, and if these conditions were not fulfilled, the transaction will fall to the ground. He had returned a reply to that effect to Prussia. He had since learned from the official representative of the King of the Netherlands that negotiations were at an end. Lord Stanley said he had not considered it necessary on the part of the Government to communicate with Holland or France on the sub[illegible].

The new Prussian loan of thirty million thalers is to provide a fresh supply of arms and ammunition.

The tailors of Paris have universally struck.

An extraordinary procession passed through the principal streets of London on the fourth, consisting of about a thousand persons out of employment and living on charity. They conducted themselves in an orderly way.

Advices from the west coast of Africa state that war has broken out between two opposing tribes of savages, in which several of the New Calabar tribes were made prisoners by their enemy, and roasted and eaten by the other side.

MINE EXPLOSION.

Eleven Men Killed.

A letter from Ashland, Schuylkill county, under date of the 15th inst., says: I send you the particulars, so far as can be ascertained, of the accident which occurred in the coal mine of Bancroft, Lewis & Co., near this place. About nine o'clock on Friday evening an explosion of fire damp took place, while twelve men were yet in the mine, eleven of whom were taken out dead. One man was rescued alive, but in a state of convulsive excitement, caused by the inhalation of sulphur, and raving to such an extent that it required the efforts of five men to hold him. He was placed under the medical treatment of Dr. Swain, of this place, who to-day considered him out of danger, and in a fair way to a speedy recovery.

As to how the accident happened nothing is yet known, all those who could possibly give any information regarding the cause or origin being killed, excepting Kinnir, the one mentioned above, whose medical attendant will not allow him to be questioned on the subject. The killed were buried yesterday.

MORTALITY IN FRANCE.—The mortality of children from Paris sent to nurse in the country has attracted the attention of the French Senate, and a petition on the subject was referred for action to the Minister of the Interior. Dr. Brochard of Bordeaux, said that every year from 18,000 to 20,000 children from Paris alone were entrusted to nurses in the country, and the amount of deaths was 29, 35, and even sometimes 42 per cent.

THE Zanesville Courier learns from all parts that the prospects for a good fruit crop are unusually promising. A gentleman who has recently been through several townships, reports that peaches, plums, cherries and apples are all safe thus far, notwithstanding the extreme coldness of the past winter.

Trains Delayed.

The heavy rains of Tuesday evening interfered considerably with railroad travel. On the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad the train due in this city on Tuesday evening at nine o'clock did not arrive until about the same hour on Wednesday evening, on account of the washing away of an embankment near Columbiana, Ohio. A large force of workmen were at once set to work to repair the break, and trains will be running regularly to-day. The trains were also delayed on the Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati Road, but not to any great extent.

The trains on the Pennsylvania Central were not delayed, excepting the Fast Line, due in this city at one-fifty on Wednesday morning, which encountered a land-slide, one mile East of Greensburg. The engine and baggage cars were thrown from the track and considerably wrecked. Fortunately all the passengers escaped injury, as did also the employees on the train, with the exception of the fireman, who received slight injuries, but not sufficient to keep him from duty. The accident did not delay the arrival or departure of any of the Eastern trains to-day. The train that encountered the land-slide was heavily laden with passengers, and the accident might have been serious in its nature, but for the prompt action of the engineer, Mr. Klingensmith, in at once putting on the patent steam brakes, with which all the trains on the road are furnished, and sticking to his post to the last moment.

Closing Exercises of the Western Theological Seminary.

The closing exercises of the Western Theological Seminary took place last evening at the First Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Dr. Swift, pastor) in Allegheny city. The audience was, as usual on these occasions, very large, and the oratorical efforts of the representatives of the graduating class, were listened to with marked attention. The exercises were commenced with prayer, after which the literary portion of the programme was observed in the following order:

Motive Principles, S. J. Beatty, Coal Bluff, Pa.; Triumph of Truth, Wm. J. Bridells, Philadelphia, Pa.; The Martyr Spirit, A. J. Caldwell, Youghiogheny, Pa.; The Temporal Power of the Pope, W. H. Gill, Allegheny, Pa.; The Bible and the Rock, Nathanial McPhetridge, Hokendauqua, Pa.; Heavenly Recognition, John M. Mealy, Claysville, Pa.; Elements of True Preaching, John T. Oxtoby, Wheeling, W. Va.; Orthodoxy, George W. Riggle, Washington, Pa.; The Mediatorial Kingship of Christ, George G. Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Work and Workmen, David S. Tappan, Steubenville, O.; Valedictory, Charles B. Newton, Lodiana, Northern India.

We have no space to spare to-day, in giving expression to any opinions concerning the remarks made by the foregoing gentlemen, any further than to say that they all acquitted themselves in the most creditable manner, and made a decidedly favorable impression upon their auditors. The exercises were concluded with the distribution of Bibles and Diplomas, after which the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Elliott, and the audience dismissed.

Market Street and Virgin Alley Sewers.

The sewer on Market street is being rapidly pushed forward to completion, under the supervision of the City Engineer, Mr. Moore. The contractor, Mr. Allen, has as many workmen engaged as can possibly work on it, and it will no doubt be finished, from Liberty to Fifth street, by next Saturday evening, and to [illegible] at the Market House within the next [illegible] an earlier completion of it th[illegible] pated, and no doubt a no less gratifying [illegible] along the street who will be so [illegible] by the work. The Virgin A[illegible] be commenced, by the same contract[illegible] Market street sewer is completed. [illegible] to build the Wood and Fifth street [illegible], but a caving in of the old one on Virgin [illegible] has necessitated the completion of that sewer at once, and the work, under the supervision of Mr. Moore, will be commenced as above stated, and hurried forward to completion with the least delay possible.

FLOUR INSPECTOR APPOINTED.—Richard Perry, Esq., of Monongahela Borough, was notified yesterday that he had received the appointment of Flour inspector for Western Pennsylvania, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Captain Wm. B. Coulter, of Westmoreland county. Mr. Perry filled the position under Gov. Curtin's administration with great acceptability, and his re-appointment by Governor Geary will give general satisfaction to the Republicans of this district.

PITTSBURGHER KILLED.—Thomas Ingles, a former Pittsburgher, with two others, was killed on Saturday, 2d of March, in Placer county, California, by being buried beneath an avalanche of snow, while in a log house. Ingils was a Scotchman by birth, and was sixty years of age. He had been in California for ten years. He leaves a family, who reside in this city.

TENEBRÆ.—A Tenebræ commenced in St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday, and will continue to-day and to-morrow. The Tenebræ is a portion of the Divine office, which is recited daily by all Catholic priests. WATER RELIEF IN THE NINTH WARD.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have loaned the city authorities sixteen thousand dollars for the purpose of introducing water mains through Liberty street, into the Ninth Ward, a portion of the city which has long been neglected in this particular. ALLEGED LARCENY OF A DOG COLLAR.

Robert A. Colville, of the Fifth Ward appeared before the Mayor yesterday, and entered a complaint against Joseph Nicklin, charging him with stealing a dog collar. Mr. Colville alleged that on Tuesday morning he placed the collar upon a dog which he valued highly, and that shortly afterwards Nicklin enticed him away. Several witnesses were examined at the hearing, but they being unable to testify positively to the fact that the collar was upon the dog at the time of his abduction, the Mayor dismissed the case.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Two colored men yesterday made informations against Patrick Devlin, James McIntyre and Peter Fenny, charging them with malicious mischief. They alleged while passing Connor's tavern, on Wood street, the defendants, who were engaged in repairing the roof, threw a quantity of boiling pitch upon them, burning them severely. The defendants were arrested and held for a hearing. They state that they were drawing pitch from the pavement to the roof, when the vessel accidentally upset, but the colored men appear to be satisfied that the act was done purposely and with a malicious intent.

[Before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny.]

DISCHARGED.

John McBratney and John Patterson, the young men charged with attempting to outrage the person of the girl Celia Dugan, had a hearing before Mayor Morrison yesterday morning, which resulted in their discharge, His Honor deeming the evidence insufficient to hold them for trial.

ANOTHER COUNTERFEIT "SHOVER" IN LIMBO.

The United States detectives for this district yesterday arrested a man named Robert Black, in Greene county, for having in his possession counterfeit Treasury notes of the denomination of ten dollars, with intent to pass the same. A number of bogus ten dollar notes were found on his person. He was brought to this city and taken before United States Commissioner S. C. McCandless, who, after a partial hearing, committed him to the county jail for a further hearing on Wednesday afternoon next, in default of three thousand dollars bail.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Martin Rice instituted proceedings against Mathew Johnston, for assault and battery. Rice was a tenant in a house owned by Johnston in Union township. A dispute arose between the parties in regard to the ownership of some lumber on the premises, when it is alleged, Johnston assaulted Rice, struck him in the face, choked him and otherwise abused him. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was placed in the hands of an officer.

[Before Alderman Donaldson.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Louis Engel appeared yesterday, and lodged an information against one H. S. McCullough, for assault and battery. The deponent alleges that the defendant came into the shop where he was working, and struck at him several times, but he managed to ward off most of the blows. The accused has not yet been arrested.

TWO CHARGES.

John Raugh was charged with committing an assault and battery on John R. Howe, by catching hold of him violently.

A warrant for her arrest was issued.

Andrew Thomasker, committed by Alderman Mullins, of Allegheny, for a hearing on a charge of felonious assault and battery, gave bail and was released.

Adam Shoemaker was released by Court, the charge of surety of the peace against him having been withdrawn.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Madame Methua Scheller, charming actress as she undoubtedly is, scarcely does herself justice in such pieces as "Lorlie: or the Black Forest; or From Village to Court," which was played last evening at the Opera House. It is a very heavy German attempt—the piece we mean, not the performer—to imitate the lighter kind of French domestic drama. This evening she appears as "Annie Lee" in "Enoch Arden," and "Katharine" in "The Taming of the Shrew." The programme is an unusually powerful and attractive one, and gives Mr. Leak and other members of the stock company ample opportunity for the display of their undoubted talent.

THE MURDOCHS.—A performance was given at Masonic Hall last night by the members of the Murdoch Dramatic Association. This is a company of theatrical amateurs, wherein may be found the germs of much excellence and no small amount of enthusiastic aspiration after future professional distinction. Mr. W. L. Stender affords many evidences of remarkable natural adaptability to the serious business of the stage, and his efforts were exceptionally well sustained by Mr. J. Armstrong; Mr. H. P. Childs and one or two others. The entertainment was an undeniable success.

VARIETIES THEATER.—The successful bill of melodrama, pantomime, negro interlude and farce, issued here at the commencement of the week, has passed every evening with little change. The place is always crowded.

MANAGERIAL MOVEMENTS.—Mr. Wm. Henderson, the esteemed and prosperous manager of the Old Theater and Opera House, with his admired and excellent wife, left the city yesterday on the way to the lady's summer residence at Long Branch. Mr. Henderson will soon temporarily return. Mrs. Henderson, before their departure for Europe, will most probably play an engagement at one of the leading theaters of Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania Railroad Disaster---Coroner's Inquest.

The jury empanelled by Coroner Clawson, to investigate into the facts connected with the death of Martin L. Bracken, the brakesman of the Cincinnati Express train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, who died from injuries received at the disaster on Sunday, the 7th inst., at Turtle creek, re-assembled yesterday evening at the Mayor's office, and proceeded with the investigation. John W. Riddle, Esq., Assistant District Attorney, was present, and conducted the examination of the witnesses. The following testimony was elicited:

Thomas McMasters testified that he resided in the village of Turtle Creek. Monohan, the party who had been arrested for placing the obstruction on the road, called at witnesses' house about the middle of last month, and requested permission to sleep in the barn; he was carrying a bundle at the time.

James McC. Creighton, re-called. He testified that the train preceding the one that was wrecked, going east, left directly at one and a half o'clock Saturday night, and passed the obstruction point a little before twelve o'clock. The church train was the next train west. It left Wall's station 9:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

R. H. Kerr, engineer of the wrecked train, testified to the fact of cross-ties having been placed between the two tracks of the road, and extending over the inner rail of the south track; did not notice any person standing near the track; the engine passed over a number of railroad spikes which had been placed on the track before arriving at the obstruction; shut off the steam and reversed the engine.

Several other witnesses had been subpœnaed, and owing to their absence, a further postponement of the inquest was made until Tuesday evening.

THE WORK HOUSE.—The Committee having the projected Work House in charge, will hold a meeting on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of selecting an architect to erect the building, and appointing a committee to visit with the architect, some of the more prominent institutions of the kind in the country.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

OFFICE OF THE PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES,
Pittsburgh, April 17, 1867.

The Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States have contemplated from the period of its organization, the bringing about such a reduction in the rates of long telegraphic messages, as would enable the Commercial Public to enjoy the facilities of the Telegraph, for the transmission of Letters, thereby causing the Telegraph to take to a large extent the place of the mail. This reduction they have developed, and would announce that their wires are now open to the public, to all points where Night Operators are employed, for the transmission of messages after 6 o'clock P. M., at the following rates:

Twenty words or less same as ten words previous to that hour. More than twenty words, and not exceeding sixty, twice the usual rate of ten words. Sixty words, and not exceeding one hundred and twenty words, three times the usual rate for ten words. And for each additional one hundred words, or any part thereof, the usual toll for ten words. A continuation of the same liberal patronage which has heretofore repaid the Company in its efforts to benefit the public is asked.

GEO. H. THURSTON,
President Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States.

The Daily Commercial

THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1867.

☞ The Daily Commercial is circulated in all parts of the State, in Western Virginia, Ohio and adjacent States, and without comparison, is the best advertising medium in Pittsburgh.

☞ The Commercial gives the only complete reports of the local markets published, and is accepted as authority by dealers at home and in all the principal cities.

☞ The Commercial solicits local correspondence, giving events of interest, concisely written; also, of improvements, inventions and personal movements.

☞ The Commercial is the only paper in Pittsburgh that uses the telegraph freely. Its special dispatches are from correspondents selected for their intelligence and reliability.

The friends of the President are not without some solicitude as to his health. None but the most pressing public business receives his attention, and his condition is the opposite to an improving one. In this connection the telegraph sends forward a little piece of intelligence of the most remarkable character. It is that "the President's system is rendered more delicate by his long abstinence from stimulants. The President has not even drank a glass of ale or wine for more than two years." After that, even Dr. Burleigh is expected to have nothing to say.

The Union League in New York City has taken a bold stand against legislative corruption, and adopted resolutions denouncing the shameless practice now so prevalent of selling official votes and influence for money, and calling on Republicans everywhere to place in nomination only men of tried character. We trust the Union Leagues everywhere, and the Republicans generally, in their organized and individual capacity, will echo and act in accordance with these sentiments. There can be no better plank in the Republican platform than this. It is to be hoped that Republican conventions to be held, will not undervalue the importance of this view of the subject.

THE NEXT ELECTION---PRELIMINARY STEPS.

The Republican Central Committee of Allegheny county, will meet Saturday to designate the time for selecting delegates to the State Convention, and fix the time for holding the County Convention, and for selecting delegates to the same. As to the former, there can be no difference of opinion, but as to the latter—that is, the time when the County Convention should meet—there may not at once be so much unanimity. In our judgment, the Convention should be held so as to give, at the most, a six weeks' campaign. We think it will be generally conceded that experience in local affairs is decidedly against a longer period than this between nomination and election. In most of the other large States, the practice, as a general thing, has been to place the two even nearer together, and let a month suffice in which to prosecute the canvass for local officers. We will not discuss the reasons, because where there has been so much experience they must occur to the minds of all.

The Committee at the ensuing meeting will do its duty best by naming a late day —not longer than six weeks before the day of election—for the County Convention. The delegates to the State Convention may be chosen at any time, so that they reach the Convention. The Committee cannot be ignorant of the state of the public mind on matters related to its action,—and it would seem to be beyond a question that the welfare of the Republican party will be most decidedly promoted by avoiding a long canvass—thus giving the Republicans of the county ample time to think matters over and prepare for action.

The frequent recurrence of elections—and the necessity for constant attention to the details of politics or suffer the penalty of neglect, tend to produce indifference on the part of those who in reality have the deepest interest in political affairs. It is about the hardest thing in the world to make men who complain most comprehend that the remedy is in their own hands, and that in not applying it they are simply guilty of inexcusable neglect.

The next election will be the initial one to the Presidential election. This fact, applied to Pennsylvania, has a peculiar significance; for, as the Key Stone State, in more respects than one, in the political arch, the influence exerted by her actual and prospective standing, has come to be well-nigh controlling. In other words, as Pennsylvania votes next fall—unless some peculiar reason operates to produce an unnatural result then—will she vote at the Presidential election.

Now, when for a single moment we reflect how much will depend on the next Presidential contest, these observations point out the importance of proceeding cautiously, and the whole duty of every single member of the Republican organization.

Circumstances have arisen which tend to weaken the Republican organization, not the least of them being the character of legislation for the last few years—last winter in particular. But as the Democrats are as culpable as the Republicans, they have no advantage in this respect, though no doubt they will attempt to make something out of the way affairs have been conducted at Harrisburg. When the Democrats are able to show they have opposed corrupt and unwise legislation; have been the defenders of the public welfare and have not shared in the "ring" performances which are so justly and universally odious, then they may be able, perhaps, to show why they may be trusted, and that by transfering the management of affairs to their hands the people will secure a remedy for the evils they endure. When they do that the Democrats may begin to talk—and not before.

That which is so much complained of has been the work of individuals—the result of bad selections in choosing Representatives at Harrisburg, and the party should not be made to suffer therefrom. This, by no means, is irremediable—indeed, the remedy is simple; but it can be made effective only by Republicans acting within their own party. When the Republican masses—especially those who have most at stake, but do least to have things go right—do their whole duty by attending primary meetings and placing in nomination only fit men to represent them, will the ground of complaint disappear, and not before. The sort o' men generally nominated and elected, we conclude, are generally samples of the conventions which nominate them, and of those who "fix things" beforehand, in particular. We are unwilling to admit decent men cannot, if they will, control the whole thing; at any rate, until they have undertaken it, they have not much right to complain. When they have tried and failed, then will they have a right to complain, and to take their remedy in whatever way they can and not make matters worse.

In a local and general sense, the thing to do is to start right. Surely nothing is so worthy of Republicans as the best good of the community. There is no valuable interest in the land that is not linked with that party; and Republicans, individually and collectively, can in no way so well prove themselves worthy of the continued trust which a confiding people have so long committed to them, as by lopping off whatever is unsound and elevating their standard of action.

The language imputed to Mr. Johnson expressing the opinion that "the Democratic party has neither policy nor wisdom, and seems bent on destruction," sets rather sorely on some of that party. Misfortune makes them sensitive, and inclines them to be suspicious. The denial that Mr. Johnson said any such thing of the party does not involve the truth of the statement. If ever a party or a person indicated a lack of both policy and wisdom, it is the Democratic party. It is scarcely six weeks since it wiped away some of its most sincere tears for the loss of slavery, and it has not yet ceased to harp upon some of its old cracked strings, which excite nothing but the laughter of ridicule in the community. The party is the same that it was in its honorable days only in name. Its language is a dead language, and its aspirations belong only to a darker age than the present.

RISING OF THE BLACKS.

We do not speak of rising in the Fenian sense, of insurrection against the Government, but of the intellectual elevation and social improvement of the black race. By the reports given of their condition, they appear to have made surprising progress during the short period that has passed since they were legally endowed with manhood and ceased to be legally rated as chattel property. Numerous and convincing are the proofs of this. And they come from so many quarters, and are furnished by such opposite interests, that not the slightest doubt can be reasonably entertained of their general correctness.

One of the most recent illustrations of the stupendous change in the status of the black race is furnished in the fact, that a newspaper, known as the South Carolinian, has been purchased by a colored man, a Mr. Nash, and is henceforth to be conducted as a conservative negro organ. We note this as one of the marvels of the times. In the State of South Carolina, where the war to intensify negro slavery began, where nearly half the population, five years ago, were slaves and mere chattels, where it was a high misdemeanor to teach a negro to read,—in that very State a newspaper, with the distinctive title of the South Carolinian, is made the property of a colored man, and is employed to be the political organ of a party of the colored race! The only drawback in this peculiar case is, that the paper is to be the organ of Conservative negroes. If by conservative is meant Democratic, as antagonistic to Republican, the wisdom of the aspiration may well be called into doubt. If the blacks expect to rise, they must not tie to the Democratic party, which has always aided to keep them down in slavery. To attach themselves now to the Democratic party would be like lashing themselves to the anchor of a wrecked and sinking vessel.

As a class, they are probably less anxious to possess political privileges, than party politicians are to confer them upon them. But, conscious that their rising in the scale of social happiness depends mainly on intellectual and moral improvement, they are intently bent on getting education, learning to read and extending thereby their area of knowledge. This seems to be an instinctive aspiration among them, originating in their own minds. Their political aspirations are mainly suggested by extraneous influences, which betray their origin to be the party aims of white politicians.

The gratification felt on seeing the rising of the blacks, is accompanied by a sorrowful emotion occasioned by the low condition of a large portion of the whites in the South. The laudable incentives and aid furnished to the former by the hand of patriotic and benevolent people should be also extended to the latter, and then the rising of all classes of the population might be hoped for.

Geological Hunt.

For some time past there has been seen in this vicinity a party of young men around whom there was gathering from day to-day an increasing mystery. Their conduct was in the main unexceptionable, corresponding, indeed, to the highly respectable rank and file, and more especially of the intelligent looking and genteelly habited commander-in-chief. The circumstances awakening special interest in the party were the fact that they were bearing about implements not generally found in the hands of men in the walk of life, to which one would instinctively refer them, and furthermore, their resort was to places on the outskirts of our city, and on the brows of cliffs, places, indeed, which staid and orderly citizens are accustomed to avoid, out of a proper fear of breaking their necks. Perhaps it was no business of the public who they were, so long as they kept within the limits of the law, but so reasoned not our reporter—especially when, yesterday morning, the same squad was seen at the Connellsville Railroad Depot, with still more marked evidences of thorough organization and equipment for some common object, it seemed time that the just expectations of an inquisitive community should be met. The train was on the eve of departure. In a few minutes the materials of a first class item would be out of reach, perhaps forever. There was no time to be lost. Whether any was lost may be judged from the details we are enabled to present.

It appears that the moving spirit of the party is Prof. B. C. Tillson, M. D., of the Western University of this city, and his companions are members of his class in Geology. On yesterday morning, these gentlemen, joined, we believe, by a few alumni, who share the Doctor's enthusiasm for hunting the huge beasts of the good old times, set out for the fountain-head of the Youghiogheny to start whatever game might there offer. All about them looked like serious work. There were the haversacks and the canteens. The latter told well for the Doctor's skill in the Hermetic art, if they contained any liquids of the order most approved as prophylatics against the virus of rattlesnakes and copperheads, reported to be in force in those parts, for there was not enough spirituous odor attached to the corks to suggest the faintest "smile." Then there were the goniometers, the chisels and the hammers. We venture to predict that the hippotheria, the megalotheria, the dinotheria, in fact the whole theria tribe, singly or in herds, will stand but a slender chance at close quarters with these gallant fellows. The Doctor was so good as to promise us, if they met with any sort of luck, a hind-quarter of a pterodactyl, a nice sirloin from a fat mastodon, the materials for a rich glyptodon soup or a coprolite pot-pie; these or their equivalents, according to the vein they may happen to strike. They expect to be gone three or four days. We commend them to the kind offices and hospitable attentions of our paleontological fellow creatures of Upper Youghiogheny, with the hope that the adventurers will find their way to some soft spot in their stony hearts. The public will anxiously await the return of the expedition.

The Will of the People.

The Hollidaysburg Register laments the failure of the Free Railroad Law in the Legislature, and takes the following look at the future:

"We had hoped that the Legislature of the last winter would readily hearken to the voice of the people. The House was anti-railroad, or it seemed so, from some of its decisions. Their duty will be to keep it so next year, and in the meantime the Senate must be reformed. If necessary our warmest personal friends must be discarded, if they do not make up their minds to agree to the most liberal legislation on the railroad question. Pennsylvania demands more than one through line from the great West. She will have it, and those who propose to be candidates for the next Legislature may make up their minds to pledge themselves to this doctrine. If they do not, there will be no hope for them in many counties. We utter this belief in all candor, because the manifestations of the people indicate it. This demand requires no sacrifice of principles—no betrayal of former pledges, and whoever is not willing to take this side will scarcely be considered worthy of public confidence."

The Register but utters the prevailing sentiment among the people. None but faithful men should be the rule of Republicans everywhere in making nominations. They who have been unfaithful or exhibited weakness should step aside; rather, the people should step aside from them.

A fine of $7,000, imposed in Boston for the offense of lottery gambling, will be a strong hint to persons engaged in this business. If the laws of the land are not worth enforcing they are not worth making. But there are no laws more generally approved as right and good, for the benefit of the community, than those against gambling in general and lotteries in particular. The breaking of them, therefore, is contrary to the moral sense of the country and the age, which will approve the infliction of punishment for such offenses.

A taste for gambling is formed and cherished by the various contrivances known as gift concerts, gift enterprises, &c., in which the essential principle of lotteries is involved, often without the checks to positive dishonesty and fraud that lotteries profess to be guarded by. They are attempts to evade the penalty of the law against lotteries, while in fact violating its requirements, and thus appealing to a love of gain in the covetous, while cheating them of their money, they encourage a disregard for the sacred authority of law and so exert a corrupting and dangerous influence on the minds of citizens.

It is difficult to ascertain the truth about the Paris Exposition. The latest version is by the correspondent of the New York Times, who says "it is really magnificent, or is going to be magnificent;" notwithstanding the assertion of the English press—it is a "failure" and a "humbug."

The Dark Side of the South.

A letter from South Carolina says: "The truth is, that these people are so tortured with debt and poverty, that they hardly mind anything which has not a direct relation to getting daily bread and necessary raiment. * * The widows of the men who fought against us are turning prostitutes. Do you ask who pays them? It doesn't take much. A pinch of meat would be a temptation, and a bushel would be almost irresistible. Their children are growing up ignorant vagabonds. There is a family within a mile of this place living in a "brush house," a shanty of fresh pine branches. It consists of a mother who had a son killed, a daughter of twenty who had a husband killed, another daughter of thirteen, and a grandchild of three. The oldest daughter told me that she had been all over the village to get work and had failed. I furnished them with clothing from the Bureau store, but how they are to live through the year I can't imagine. They were poor before the war, but not like this. They "had a family Bible once, and father thought ever so much of it." A few words of pity brought the tears rolling down the eldest girl's sallow cheeks. "Oh!" she said, "I've gone through a power in the past two years." She told me that she wasn't used to going barefooted in the winter, and it made her sick, which I consider very probable, as we have had three inches of snow. I hear that she is a "bad character." Well, who wouldn't be?

The Grand Duchy of Luxemburg as it is grandly called, is a little patch of land about as big as Allegheny county, and contains about the same number of inhabitants. It would be better for the two great nations, that have a notion of going to war about it, to settle the case by arbitration or bring it before some justice of the peace for decision. If Napoleon wants it, why don't he take Mr. Seward's commercial diplomacy as his pattern and buy it? Our late purchase was as large as six hundred Luxemburgs. By the way, does our government buy the Esquemaux with the land, after the old Russian fashion?

Mr. Beecher has distinct views on most of things, but in regard to nothing is he more emphatic than legislative corruption. In a sermon, last Sunday, he referred to "the corruptions of politics, the flagrant venality of legislation" as one of the perilous evils of the hour, in these words:

"The men at Washington and Albany sold their country; they sold their humanity and their honor, and the trusts that were put upon them by their constituents. They were debauchers of the young; they were the traitors; they that lifted the sword were not half so much traitors; they that despoiled the old banner and trod it under foot; they that fired upon the Government of the United States were not so much traitors as those vermin who were crawling under the foundations and destroying by corruption the vital power of the Government."

A Banquet was given to Gen. Pope by the citizens of Atlanta, last Saturday evening. In reply to a toast he made a speech, was prudent in expression, conciliatory in tone, and quite to the point,

"Of course, upon the people themselves must depend how much or how little they see or feel the military authority which has been placed over them. I shall endeavor, and I trust with success, to discharge my duties among you with strict fidelity to law, with fairness, and with due regard to the rights of all, so that when we come to part, we may take leave of each other, if not with concurrence of opinion, at least with feelings of mutual kindness and respect."

SOUTHWEST

SEVEN PER CENT.

First Mortgage Bonds.

$2,000,000 in Coupon Bonds of $1,000 Each,

TWENTY YEARS TO RUN,

Principal and Interest Guaranteed by the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company.

And secured by property valued at $7,500,000, consisting of their completed road to the Gasconade river, 127 miles from St. Louis, and 350,000 Acres of Rich Agricultural and Mineral Lands on its line.

This road passes through a country rich in agricultural resources and in minerals, and particularly in iron and lead; the iron ore of the Southwest Missouri being the purest known, ranging from 60 to 90 per cent. of pure iron. Rich and extensive deposits of specular oxide and red and brown hematites abound all along the line of the road and on the Company's lands in greater quantities than the total deposit of any State in the Union, and a large business is now being inaugurated in freighting iron ore for the Eastern furnaces, the vast excess in yield of this over other ores paying the differences in cost of transportation.

By a provision of the mortgage, when lands are sold to the amount of $40,000, it is to constitute a fund for the redemption of a like amount of bonds, which are also received by the Company at PAR in payment for land. This land is now being disposed of at rates from $5 to $40 per acre. The climate is remarkably salubrious, and the mean temperature the same as in Virginia, the winter being short and mild. For particulars respecting lands, address Colonel A. ALBERT, Land Agent, at St. Louis, Mo.

The Company has been recently merged with the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company, having a land grant of 55,000,000 of acres, thereby adding to the fullest to the security of these bonds.

The road of the latter Company, when completed, will form a direct and continuous railway from St. Louis to San Francisco, much shorter and of vastly easier gradients than any other route.

Of the present issue of bonds, a limited amount is now offered for sale at the low rate of 80 per cent., subject to advance at the option of the Company.

MISHLER'S

THE

GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURE.

We have received the following communication from Capt. EDWARD DUFF, of East Liberty, bearing strong testimony to the great virtues of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS, as a remedy for DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION.

East Liberty, March 25, 1867.

MESSRS. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON—

Gentlemen: I write to add my testimony to that of thousands of others as to the merits of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS, that the sick and afflicted may have the benefit of my experience with your Invaluable Medicine. For many years I have been suffering with the very worst form of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Only those who have been afflicted as I have know the trouble, pain and misery I endured. After suffering a number of years, I was induced to try your MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS. The use of but a small quantity of this most excellent Medicine has effected a radical cure in my case, and I here take occasion to recommend its use to all persons similarly affected. I am much pleased to see that we are to have a Branch House for the sale of this remedy in Pittsburgh

Hoping that MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS will meet with that approbation and extended sale their great merits entitle them, and that thousands upon thousands of our suffering fellow creatures may be healed, as I have been, through their extraordinary virtue and curative powers, I am truly, yours,

EDWARD DUFF.

DISTRICT OF NEW ORLEANS,
PORT OF PITTSBURGH,
April 15th, 1867.

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals, accompanied by proper guarantees, according to forms to be furnished on application at this office, will be received here until 12 o'clock meridian, on the FIRST TUESDAY OF JUNE NEXT, for the supply of the Marine Hospital, at Pittsburgh, with the articles of Provision, Medicine, &c., enumerated in said forms, for one year from July 1, 1867. The quantities stated are estimated with reference to the usual number of patients in the Hospital, but the United States reserves the right to take more or less of said articles, accordingly as they may be actually required. If the articles delivered at the Hospital are not, in the judgment of the physician, of the best quality and adapted to the Hospital, he will be at liberty to reject the same, to purchase other articles in their stead, and to charge the contractor with any excess in cost over the contract price.

The United States reserves the right to accept the proposals for the whole or any portion of the articles specified. GEORGE C. McLEAN, eod Surveyor and Agent.

NOTICE—TO THE BONDHOLDERS OF THE ERIE CANAL COMPANY.—By an act approved March 15th, 1867, the Erie Canal Company is authorized to enlarge their canal to such size as they may deem expedient.

The Act authorizes the increase of the capital stock to $1,500,000, and authorizes the Company to receive in payment for subscriptions to stock any bonds, judgments or other indebtedness of the company. The act further provides that "When the present indebtedness of the company or three-fourths of the same shall have been converted into capital stock, the said company is hereby authorized to execute a mortgage of the said canal, its rights, privileges and franchises to their trustees, and issue coupon or other bonds to the amount of one million of dollars, bearing seven per centum interest per annum and not running over forty years, and secured by the mortgage aforesaid, to be expended by the said trustees under the direction of the Board of Directors in the enlargement of the said canal, and with power to sell said bonds at such prices as the Directors may deem expedient."

The company proposes to enlarge the canal to pass boats of from 200 to 250 tons burden, and as there can be little doubt of the canal, when enlarged, paying the interest on its present debt and stock, in addition to the interest on the new bonds, it is hoped the Bondholders will promptly convert their bonds into stock, to enable the company to proceed at once to make arrangements for enlarging. The stock books of the company will be open for the conversion of the present bonds into stock, on and after the FIRST DAY OF MAY, 1867.

By order of the Board.

A. H. CAUGHEY, Secretary.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Cape of Good Hope papers announce that the Queen of Madagascar, by royal proclamation, has forbidden the civilians to wear hats with brims. This privilege is restricted to government officers. The poor civilians are thus reduced to the necessity of wearing scull caps, or of using their old hats with the rims torn off: the latter course being adopted by so many persons that the streets are strewed with discarded hat brims.

The colored men's ship yard at Baltimore was purchased by them not quite thirteen months ago. It is entirely managed by colored men, and 225 colored men are employed, 35 being white. Last year work was done to the amount of $76,000, the profits being 25 per cent. The yard is a stockholding affair; the shares are $5 each; the amount of $13,000 have been taken, the whole by colored men.

By the recent earthquake at Mytilene, out of a population of eighty thousand, as many as three or four thousand were killed, and starvation stares thousands of the survivors in the face.

The entire amount of immatured loans of Philadelphia on the first of the present year was $34,788,131. Of this amount, $32,811,063 bears six per cent. per annum interest, and $977,067 five per cent. In addition to the above aggregate of immatured debt, there is over-due and yet outstanding, $377,489, making total sum due and payable $35,165,621.

It is complimentary to Yankee ingenuity that a commissioner has been sent from Switzerland to examine the railroad which enables us to make the ascent of Mount Washington, with a view of scaling the Alps on the same plan.

A Western paper states that there is to be during the summer months, a great buffalo hunt by nine members of the National Senate and seventeen of the House, who are to go out as the guests of the delegate from Dacotah. Probably they will find this a more profitable diversion than "fighting the tiger" at Washington.

The assessed value of the Astor House is $700,000; of Broadway, from Bowling Green to Union Square, $51,200,000; but this does not include the City Hall Park and the various churches.

A company has been formed in Baltimore to build a new hotel, and a contract has been entered into with an experienced builder.

During 1866 over 5,000,000 pounds of books were exported from Great Britain, a large proportion of which came to the United States. The value of these books was $8,010,885 in gold, an average of sixty cents a pound.

No matter how hard the times may be, Young America (masculine and feminine) is determined to have his and her luxuries, else we should not see among the importations (to be paid for in gold) during the past week, such items as these: Cigars, $13,137; champaigne, $30,100; jewelry, $74,440; toys, $2,974; fancy goods, $107,484; perfumery, $20.36; furs, $2,820, and so on.

Charles Ulrich, arrested for forgery sometime since by a United States detective, has confessed that he has paid $19,600 hush-money to New York Police Detectives, and has besides altered stolen watches for them so that they could not be recognized by their owners. A special meeting of the Commissioners is called to see if they cannot discover who it is that has been sharing the plunder. There is a strong outside public sentiment in favor of this, the people naturally being anxious to ascertain if they are taxed to keep in office persons whose proper place is the State Prison or Penitentiary.

PERSONAL.

—At a recent educational meeting in London the Duke of Argyll expressed the opinion that the English people would soon demand the American system of common school education, leaving the religious education to the Sunday schools.

—There have of late been various reports of the dangerous illness of the heir of the French throne. The British Medical Journal states that it has authority to contradict these rumors so far as they refer to the serious constitutional character of the Prince's illness. He has been suffering for some time from an abscess resulting from a bruise, but it has been successfully treated by his physicians. The young gentleman about whom there is so much anxiety, is eleven years old.

—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has been waited upon by some of his friends, to see if he would accept the office of delegate to the State Constitutional Convention. The reverend gentleman said he was not prepared to give, just then, a definite answer. He wanted time to consider. If he could see it in the light of a duty, he would endeavor to accede to the wishes of his friends, whose good intentions in placing him in nomination he did not doubt.

—In the New York Supreme Court, general term, Mr. Spencer moved that a colored lawyer, named Bradley, of Massachusetts, be admitted to practice. This is said to be the first application of the kind ever made in a New York court. The application was referred to the Committee on Character. The result is looked for with interest.

—Madame Erlanger and her sister, Miss Slidell, made a great sensation at a recent ball in Paris by the splendor of their toilettes. At Madame de Moustier's, Madame E. represented the Angel of War, and Miss Rosina S. the Angel of Peace. The hostess wore an appropriate costume—that of Amphytrite; she was streaming with diamonds of the purest water, her dress was bespangled with gems, and gold and silver whitebaits were hopping in the flounces of her tulle dress. Her charming daughter illustrating the blue night of Italy; Madame de Pene wore an Egyptian costume; Mdlle. de Berne personified Inconstance, a winged heart on her head, and winged hearts on her dress, with cherubs gambolling in great distress; Mdlle. de Tanluy represented the electric wires; Mdlles. de Leffe bouquets of cherries and corn poppies; Madame de S., snow; Mdlle. Hitchcock, a very pretty American lady, illustrated the Derby, in the garb of a jockey; and Countess de Givry personated France, firmly grasping a flag. As to the gentlemen, there were a white sheep, with rose satin paws, little golden horns, and a lot of favours, then a cock, and a Caucasian.

—Prince Kang, the actual ruler of China, refused to allow the English there to build a railroad. His reasons in opposition were that the prejudices of the people were very strong; the country of Confucius differed from the wild, semi-barbarous and primitive regions of Europe, whose inhabitants were comparatively of recent origin, whereas the Flowery Kingdom was under elaborate culture, and the occupations of the inhabitants were peculiar.

—Mr. Grau, the hard matter-of-fact individual who keeps getting between Ristori and her worshippers with his abominable question as to how many dollars they worship her, has visited Utica, and evidently is disgusted with it as a pent-up place which will contract her powers, for he declared, with mingled pathos and positiveness, that "Ristori can no play Elizabeth in Utica. She play de same in Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse—tree nights in succession. But Ristori can no play Elizabeth four nights in de week. It would kill Ristori." It was finally arranged that Marie Stuart should be the play in Utica, with the last of Macbeth as a compensatory concession.

CITY MATTERS.

THE VESUVIUS IRON WORKS.

Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Company's New and Extensive Warehouse and Offices at Allegheny City—Their Removal from Pittsburgh, and Occupancy of the New Building—Description of its Plan, Dimensions, Internal Arrangements, &c.—New Facilities, &c.—The Works at Sharpsburg, etc., etc.

The new and spacious general warehouse of Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Company, manufacturers of Bar, Boiler, Sheet and Tank Iron, Nails and Nail Rods, etc., located at Nos. 64, 66 and 68 Anderson street, in Allegheny City, opposite Pittsburgh, is unquestionably the most perfect and extensive building of its kind in this great manufacturing region. Considered in this light alone, it is an object of attraction, ornament and pride; but its general interest is doubly heightened by the reflection that its magnitude indicates the rapidly increasing progress of a cultivated taste among our heavy manufacturers, who have too long been satisfied with such facilities for transacting an extensive and constantly growing trade as the exigencies of the hour required.

This immense structure was put under contract in last January, and has been completed at a heavy outlay of money. Large gangs of mechanics and laborers have been constantly employed ever since that time, and the iron firm for whom it was erected has just taken possession of the structure, having removed their office and stock from their former place of business, No. 73 Water street, and No. 90 First street, in the city of Pittsburgh. The new premises, situated alongside of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, which is now entirely completed, connect it with the works belonging to the firm, at Sharpsburg, five miles distant, on the westerly bank of the Allegheny river. The principal front is on Anderson street, presenting a bold and attractive facade, measuring sixty-two feet in length, and surmounted by a finely executed sign running nearly the whole width of the building. The westerly front measures one hundred and forty feet, and faces the Western Pennsylvania Railroad. The whole building rests upon a solid stone foundation, which measures thirty-six inches through at the base, and twenty-four inches across the top, and is sixty inches, or five feet, in height. In addition to this, there are forty-two solid piers of stone in the cellar, twelve in square, upon which stand heavy live oak posts, each twelve feet high, and proportionately thick, firmly braced and keyed, supporting the principal floor of the building, which is capable of sustaining the weight of several thousand tons of iron. Every precaution has been used in constructing the building so that the great strain which will be constantly brought upon its timbers, will not in the least degree diminish the general compact character of all the numerous joints, nor cause the building to lose its present beautiful outlines, which are remarkably even and mathematical in their proportions. The cellar is coextensive with the principal floor above, and being entirely dry, with a very solid surface for its floor, will be found to facilitate the business of the firm during the more active seasons of the year; but at present it is not used at all. The cellar is amply lighted by heavy windows on the northern and westerly sides, and is entered by a broad staircase from the main floor, and by a large arch or gate-way on the rear end of the building.

The principal floor is devoted exclusively to the reception of iron stock from the works; its classification in over three hundred iron racks, ranged on three entire sides of the building; its sale and shipment, and all the internal arrangements, for the business is on a scale to correspond with what has already been briefly described. Every known improvement has been introduced in order to make it as near perfection as human skill, employed with the most ample means, can accomplish. Not only is it thoroughly strong and durable, but care has been taken in its construction to preserve it so, and thus every thing about it bears the impress of solidity. No fires of any kind are allowed in the building, either day or night, except in the offices, and by way of the prevention of accidents from this cause, so frequently ruinous in their results, six large fire plugs have been placed in the building, viz.: two in the cellar, two on the main floor, and two more on the roof.

A railway track, one hundred and twenty-eight feet in length, is built on the main floor, and connects with Western Pennsylvania Railroad on the northerly side of the building. Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co., own the cars they use in transporting their heavy stock. The delays and costs of shipping freight from their works at Sharpsburg to their warehouse, are now very materially reduced. The stock is handled less, and, therefore, delivered in far better condition. This is especially important in nails, an article which this firm manufacture in immense quantities, only two handlings being required, viz.: In the loading and unloading of the freight cars. Orders are filled at the works, and shipped therefrom, direct by rail, to all points, over the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, Western Pennsylvania Railroad, Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad, Allegheny Valley Railroad, etc., etc., with all of which transportation lines they have immediate and direct communication. This is an important facility.

The business offices of the firm located on the premises, are situated on the southerly side of the building, looking out on Anderson street. On either side there is a spacious wagon way from the street. The offices are divided into three apartments, and are now being fitted up with great taste. The principal office measures sixteen feet square, and is the same in height. It is lighted on three sides by windows, the lower tiers of which contain ground glass of a very beautiful pattern. All the wood-work, windows, etc., are skilfully grained in imitation of oak and varnished. In the rear is located the shipping office, which is finished in a similar style. On the outside of this office is one of Fairbanks' scales capable of weighing four thousand five hundred pounds, and is so arranged that no inaccuracies can possibly occur, being under the eyes of the chief shipping clerk every time that it is used. Adjoining the shipping office, but entered from the principal business office, is the vault or safe, built by Burke & Barnes, of Pittsburgh. This vault is larger than many used in banking institutions, and is thoroughly burglar and fire proof. It is walled up on all sides by solid masonry four feet in thickness, and two immense iron doors, fastened by heavy hinges, bolts and combination locks, leads to its interior, which is lighted with gas. To the left of the principal office is the private office of the firm, which is to be furnished in the most approved style. This room is the exact counterpart of the principal office, in size, but is more luxuriant in its general finish and arrangement. Both offices, however, will be furnished in a style in keeping with the neatness, convenience, etc., which pervades the whole building. Standing in the centre of the main floor, and looking upwards, the splendid mechanical structure of the roof is easily taken in at a single glance, and furnishes the observer with an adequate idea of the general strength of the entire building. The main story is exactly sixteen feet in the clear, but the roof rises gradually towards the centre, and spans the entire width of the building, supported by twelve immense trusses, constructed after the most improved models. There are over one hundred thousand feet of oak timber, oak joists, oak flooring, &c., used in the construction of the warehouse, to say nothing of other kinds of wood required in finishing it. The roof is covered with a fire and water proof material, known as Warren's patent. The sides of the warehouse are covered by No. 24 iron, double rivited.

The following are some of the firms employed in constructing these premises: Carpenter work, by Smith, Bungey & Co.; framing, by James Downing; bolts, nuts, etc., by Andrews & Armstrong; iron, by Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co.; gravel work, by Forrester & Magraw; mason work, by McCord & Co.; safes, by Burke & Barnes; plumbing, gas fixtures, &c., by McCarthy & Co.; glass, by Smertz & Co. and Nelson & Co.; painting, by Dawes & Hanlon.

The Iron Works belonging to Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co., and which are now known all over the United States as the VESUVIUS IRON WORKS, are located at Sharpsburg, a village in Allegheny county, lying on the west side of the Allegheny river, about five miles from Pittsburgh. These works are among the most extensive in this country. The product consists of flat bar iron, horseshoe iron, heavy band iron, hoop and light band iron, round and square, oval iron, half oval and half round iron, tank iron, nail rods, railroad sheet iron, cut spikes, and nails of every description. The firm employ a very large number of workmen throughout the year. Connected with the works is an extensive coal mine, also owned by this firm, who are thus enabled to supply their works promptly and at a great saving of time and money. They employ a large gang of experienced miners, and own all the rolling stock, tools, etc. A private line of telegraph connects the office at the warehouse, in Allegheny City, with the works at Sharpsburg.

All parts of the business of Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co., are based upon liberal principles. Each department is governed by a competent and skillful person, who is fully responsible to the firm for all the work done in his branch, and everything about the establishment is so thoroughly systematized, even to the slightest detail, that any deviation or delinquency of any of the employees from the regular and authorized course, is known at once by the heads of the firm.

In another column of this paper the reader will find the regular standing advertisement of Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co. This firm has stood among the first and foremost in this country, ever ready and anxious to adopt every new and valuable improvement in the manufacture of iron. Every man in their employ has been selected in reference to his fitness for the duties he is called on to perform. Skilled experience, zeal, and intelligence are required of them, and none are employed whose antecedents have not proved their possession of these indispensable requisites.

The firm itself embraces Messrs. James C. Lewis, Robert Dalzell, A. McD. Bailey, J. E. B. Dalzell and Lewis W. Lewis. These gentlemen constitute a firm to whose respectability and liberal spirit of enterprise a Pittsburgher can point with just pride, as illustrating the character of the leading manufacturing establishments of Allegheny county. Thorough masters of their business by means of more than twenty years practical experience in it, their integrity, liberality, system, and intelligent ambition to excell in the quality of all their manufactures, have acquired a wide patronage, and a high and enduring reputation. Liberality of dealing, cosmopolitan manners, a disposition not only "to live," but to "let live," distinguish the business men of this part of the country, of whom Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co. are faithful representatives. With their new and superior advantages of location, they will be able to vastly increase their already extensive trade, and thus add still further to the growth, popularity and success of the iron business in this part of the Keystone State.

The firm have placed an order box at No. 251 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, for the accommodation of their customers here. Their postoffice address is: Messrs. Lewis, Bailey, Dalzell & Co., Pittsburgh, Penna.

PURE WHITE LEAD—HOW IT IS MADE.—As this branch of manufacture has now assumed immense proportions in Pittsburgh, we think it would not be amiss to say something about the process, which perhaps most of our readers know little of. The idea occurs to us now, on the occasion of a casual visit to the last new establishment of the kind erected here, that of Messrs. Davis, Chambers & Co., situated just over the Monongahela river, at the end of the Suspension bridge. Strolling over that way to see the improvements, we observed a new factory, and, not withstanding the the forbidding sign of "No Admittance," we intruded ourselves, and were made welcome by Mr. Davis, who politely showed us through the works. Now we guess it will be somewhat new to most readers, to know the various processes by which the lead metal is converted into that most enduring and preserving material, white lead in oil.

First, the lead has to be eaten up—not, however by the proprietors or operatives, we hasten to say. Still, it has to undergo such a change, as may only be expressed by the term "eaten up." The pig lead is first changed in form by re-casting to give greater surface for action of the corroding agent. In the form of either thin sheets or "buckles," it is put into earthen pots (say of a gallon capacity) in the bottom of which is a small quantity of vinegar. The whole floor of the corroding house is covered with these pots. Then this layer is covered with boards and these thickly overlaid with tan bark. This tan bark produces a sweating heat which causes the vinegar to evaporate, which performs the work of corroding. Now, layer after layer of pots, boards and tan bark are added until the house is full. Then it is shut up for from two months to twelve weeks. This is a long time, one will say, but as a number of houses are so filled, and it is arranged that some are ready to be emptied while others are being charged, the manufacture involves no delay. When the corroding is complete, the substance remaining in the pots in place of the lead, metal, and vinegar, is a dry white powder. This is elevated to the upper stories, and, after passing through rolls (to reduce lumps) and several screenings, is is ground in water. It is then pumped, in solution, to large tanks, and the water drawn partially off. The paste is then run into copper drying pans, heated by steam. After sufficient drying it is fed into the mixer, where it receives the linseed oil, and thence passes into the oil stones, where it receives its final grinding and goes direct into the packages for sale.

Now, this is the way pure white lead is made, and the firm of Davis, Chambers & Co. (all the members of which are gentlemen of the highest standing in the business community) start in with the express determination to permit no adulteration whatever. This a most important point, as it is well known that spurious lead is abundant and has to be carefully guarded against. They have just begun to grind lead, having filled their corroding houses some months since, and are now prepared to offer to the consumer, and to the trade, a very superior article of pure white lead in oil.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 17, 1867.

The general trade of our city has greatly improved, and some particular branches are almost up to the usual amount at this season.

—Stocks are quiet. Several small lots of bank shares were inquired for to-day, but prices were too low to bring out sellers.

—The funding of the Seven-thirty bonds into Five-twenties is going on rapidly in this city, as well as elsewhere. Holders of the August series who expect a bond for 20 years will do well to notify the Treasury of the fact at once. The notes call for a bond at maturity, and failing to notify the Treasury of the intention to demand the full 20-year bond may make it necessary for holders to leave their 7-30's with the Department when they collect the last interest, and to wait until a new series of bonds can be printed. The new bonds when obtained will be less desirable than the bonds of 1865, and sell below them at once.

—The better way for holders of the Seven-Thirties is to exchange them at once for the new 5-20s, which they can readily do at McVay & Co.'s Banking House, on favorable terms. The New York quotations received at this House to-day, show a decline of ¼ of one per cent. on 1881s and 5-20s of 1862, and an advance of ⅛ on Compounds and ⅜ on gold over morning advices:

—The noon quotations of the New York stock market, received by Mr. Bryan to-day, show a fractional recovery from the decline in Railways which, we reported this morning:

—A cotemporary journal remarks that notwithstanding the rapid recovery from the panic symptoms of last week, there is not the slightest disposition to indulge in speculation. Outside orders follow the rises but for a little way, and then stop short, and without their support the market generally becomes sluggish, and slight declines set in; the downward tendency is usually checked by a flow of orders to buy at the lower figures, and the immediate result is an advance. With the recovery of prices the outside investments are withdrawn, until another fall in the stock thermometer, forming a financial illustration of the childish game of "see-saw;" and this has been the real state of the stock market for months past. There is nothing particularly damaging in this condition of things; a mania for speculation is never to be approved or encouraged, as its ultimate results must in the nature of things ever prove disastrous. The steadiness of the last half year has forced the speculative and investing stocks to be sold at about their intrinsic value for the time being, and prevented even the possibility of panics.

—Belding, Keith & Co., under date of London, March 30th, received at this office, says United States five-twenty bonds show a marked and exceptional advance, which is fully warranted by their low prices and excellent security, though these considerations, in the present state of feeling here, would not suffice to cause a rise, which results principally from orders on account of German investors, who have from the first realized the value of these bonds, and continue to purchase them largely. Illinois Central and Eries are firm at about our last prices. As regards Atlantic and Great Western securities, there is an improvement of ½ per cent. in the debentures, but a reduction of ½ in the consolidated mortgage bonds, closing at 32 to 33, and 28 to ½ respectively.

—James T. Brady & Co., Bankers and Brokers, corner Fourth and Wood streets, dealers in Government Securities, quote the same in New York to-day as follows:

U. S. 6s, 1881	109⅝
U. S. 6s, 1862	109½
U. S. 6s, 1865	108
Consols	107⅞

—The Boston Advertiser, under date of April 16th, says: Mining stocks were firmer, with a decided disposition to purchase, which advanced prices, and the market at the close was strong. Copper Falls sold at 22 cash, and 23 buyer 30 days. At a meeting of the Directors held this day, Aaron Warner Spencer, Esq., was elected President, and Horatio Bigelow Treasurer, the latter in place of Mr. Joseph B. Wheelock, resigned. Huron opened at 10¼, and advanced to 10¾ regular, and 11 buyer 30. Franklin opened at 20, with 20¼ bid afterwards, and no sellers under 21. National (seldom quoted) sold at 7. Hancock forfeited stock for non-payment of $5 assessment was sold at public auction to-day, prices ranging 5¼@5¾; later in the day it fell off to 5. Small sales of Pewabic at 15¼. The March product of this mine was 95 tons, a slight gain on the previous month.

Advices from Europe quote the price of ingot copper a trifle higher. This will be likely to have a favorable effect on this side of the water.

The following were the closing prices for the principal mining shares: Allouez 4¾ offered; Bay State 4½5; Calumet, 25@40; Canada 45@50; Copper Falls 22¼@22½; Dana ½@1½; Franklin 20¼@21; Hancock 5¼@5¾; Hanover 1 asked; Hecla 25 offered; Humboldt 1 offered; Huron, assessment paid, 10@10¾; Isle Royal 4@6¾; Minnesota 9 asked; National 7@7½; Petherick 2 offered; Pewabic 15@15½; Quincy 25@26; Rockland 7½@8¼; St. Clair, assessment paid, 5½ asked; Superior 2¼@2½; Winthrop ¾ offered.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, April 18, 1867.

Business yesterday was moderately active. Buyers were disposed to take hold. Holders gave way, so that the principal sales were made at a slight decline on the sales made the day previous. The receipts were 8,910 bbls, principally by the river. The sales during the same period were 16,300 bbls. The largest portion was for immediate delivery; the balance for May and June delivery. The market just at present is difficult to quote, as no two dealers demand the same figures. One thing is very evident, the supply was fully up with the demand. Among the sales we note as follows:

CRUDE—6,000 bbls bulk on the spot at 6¼c; 3,000 bbls do at 6¼c; 1,200 bbls do at 6¼c. Also, sales of 3,000 bbls bulk, June delivery; the terms were withheld; sales 1000 bbls do, June at 7¼c. We also note sales of 2000 bbls deliverable during the next ten days, at 6¾c; sales 100 bbls Brady's Bend Iron Company crude, 44 gravity, at 6¾c, and 55 bbls Smith's Ferry, 46 gravity, at 6¾c, and 65 bbls, 41 gravity, at 7¼c; making the sales in the aggregate 16,300 bbls.

REFINED OIL—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. Among the sales were the following: 2,000 bbls bonded, deliverable in 500 bbl lots, as follows: 500 bbls in June, 500 do July, 500 do August, 500 do September. The terms were withheld.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 17, 1867.

There was considerable activity exhibited in the general markets to-day, and in some departments a decided improvement. The Flour market continues firm and active. Provisions are generally in request and firmly held at quotations. The Grain market is active in most articles at prices ruling for some time. Butter is coming in, in better supply and quality, and prices are tending downward. The Grocery business is generally brisk. Prices have not varied materially in any branch of trade, within the past week.

The receipts of leading articles of produce, per river and railroad since our last, were as follows: Flour 256 bbls; apples 388 bbls; cheese 370 bxs; corn 242 sacks; barley 114 sacks; wheat 900 sacks; oats 819 sacks, and butter 37 packages. We quote as follows, which are the wholesale prices, unless otherwise stated:

APPLES—Prices were somewhat lower, ranging, for prime to choice, at from $1 to $3 50 per bbl.

BUTTER—Prices under more liberal receipts of the best grades, are tending downward. We notice sales of 10 boxes choice Western Reserve, at 30c; 14 packages choice at 35c, and 500 lbs roll at 33c per lb.

GRAIN—There has been no change in prices of grain since our last. No. 2 spring wheat, the only kind worth speaking of in the market, and it is in quite light supply, is quoted at $2 80@2 90 ₩ bushel. New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The dry goods trade is firmly active for all staple styles of cotton and woolen fabrics at fully sustained prices, but inferior makes will not sell readily unless at low and unprofitable rates. Standard brown sheetings weighing 284 yards to the pound, are saleable at 19@21c; the heaviest makes are quickest at the highest prices. Shirtings less active but steady at 17c for the best makes. Bleached muslins of best makes scarce and wanted, such as New York Mills, which are eagerly sought after at 40c, but other good styles are sold at half this price. In prints the same range is noticed, 64 square cloths ranging from 12 to 20c; novel designs in good colors are appreciated, while poor styles are neglected by. In fancy woolens the same disparity exists; choice styles of cashmeres readily command $1 75@2 00, while poor makes are inactive at 87½c@$1 00 a yard.

Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, April 17.—Flour dull but firm. Wheat advanced to $2 65@2 68 for No. 1; $2 46 for No. 2; $2 32½@2 35 for No. 3; $2 09½ for rejected. Oats quiet at 62@63c for No. 1; 61c for No. 2. Corn firm at $1 05 for No. 1 old.

A TIMELY WARNING.—It is especially important at this time, when the markets of the United States are flooded with the direst poisons, under the name of imported liquors, and when domestic compounds purporting to be medicinal, but not a whit less pernicious, are heralded to the world as "sovereign remedies," that the public should fully understand the facts. Be it known, then, that while all the diffusive stimulants called liquors are impure, and all the Tonics containing alcohol are manufactured with a fiery article containing amyl or fusel oil, a mortal poison, HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS contain none of these things, but are a combination of pure essence of Rye, with the pure juices of the most valuable stomachic, anti-billious, and aperient herbs and plants, and that as a safe and rapid remedy for Dyspepsia, and all its kindred complaints, this preparation stands before the world without a rival or competitor. Its sales to-day are equal to the combined sales of all the other tonics advertised in the United States, and the certificates which authenticate its usefulness are signed by individuals of the highest standing in every professional calling and walk of life. Beware of imitations and impostors.

This boat is one of the best of her class afloat and in the charge of Captain Golding, has won a reputation equal to any that comes to this port. The Captain is one of nature's noblemen—does know how to perform a wrong action, and is justly admired by all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance. It gives us pleasure to say a good word for Captain Golding.

NASHVILLE—The Union and Dispatch, of Sunday, says: The river was rising last evening, with five and a half feet large on Harpeth Shoals. The Alpha arrived yesterday from up-river ports. She reports the river rising all the way up. She brought 41 hhds of tobacco, 85 sacks of corn, and other freight. She met the tow boat L. N. Phillips, three miles below Lloyd's Landing making her way up slowly but surely, having left part of her tow at Harpeth.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital 500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, is, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers and directors.
